

ALEXANDER BEEHLER

Alexander Beehler concentrates his practice in medical negligence, product liability and other tort liability actions. Clients rely on his problem-solving abilities to analyze their cases and pinpoint unique challenges and solutions. Alex uses strong legal writing skills, coupled with trial and appellate experience, to craft solutions that work for the benefit of his clients.

Prior to joining Foran Glennon, Alex worked as an associate at a prominent Chicago litigation firm where he gained valued experience in the Illinois court system. He also formerly served as a judicial clerk for the Honorable James P. Flannery Jr., the presiding judge of the Circuit Court of Cook County's Law Division, along with the division's Judges Margaret A. Brennan, Clare E. McWilliams, and Thomas R. Mulroy on an interim basis.

PROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP

Alex is a member of the Chicago Bar Association and served as co-chair of the Young Lawyers' Tort Litigation Committee.

COMMUNITY LEADERSHIP

Alex moonlights as a professional soccer referee across the nation. He referees in the United Soccer League and National Women's Soccer League. He also referees in the NCAA for the Big Ten, Horizon, MAC, MVC and Summit conferences.

EDUCATION

Alex earned his J.D. from Chicago-Kent College of Law in 2016 after receiving his B.A. from Cornell College in 2013.

While attending law school, Alex served as an editor of the Seventh Circuit Review and a teaching assistant for legal research and writing. He was a member of Chicago-Kent College of Law's Moot Court Honor Society and was rated the third best overall advocate at the 2015 McGee Civil Rights National Championship, where his team also won the competition. He led his team to the quarterfinals of the 2016 Andrews Kurth Moot Court National Championship.

ADMISSIONS

Alex is authorized to practice in Illinois and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois.
